Is Mark Carney Bisexual?

April 26, 2025

This conversation took place on August 10, 2013 at the Wilderness Festival in Oxfordshire, England

Carnage is talking to his gay admirer Philipp Michael Hildebrand, a Swiss banker who has been a vice chairman of BlackRock since 2012 when he resigned as Governor of the Swiss Central bank due to corruption scandal.

Ghislaine Maxwell and Carney's wife Diana were close friends.

See below- Mark Carney is a tax cheat.

Newly discovered photos show that Mark Carney spoke with notorious child trafficker Ghislaine Maxwell, a recruiter for Jeffrey Epstein's depraved and notorious network of underaged victims and extremely wealthy and powerful men.

Their conversation took place on August 10, 2013 at the Wilderness Festival in Oxfordshire, England.

Maxwell was later arrested in 2020, convicted and sentenced to 20 years in prison. A set of photographs from the event was published by a British photography company at the time, and at least one of that set has been attributed to photographer Adrian Sherratt of Shutterstock, and was published by a major newspaper.

It is likely that the same photographer shot all the photos from the set. None of the photos were created by A.I. technology, as they were all uploaded to the internet in 2013, long before such technology was invented, and none were altered.

In a response from the Mark Carney campaign in January 2025 to photos that showed Carney with Maxwell, Carney's campaign stated that Maxwell was someone that Carney simply "bumped into" in "public settings" and that "they are not friends."

(Carney enjoys intimate moments with Epstein's arranger)

However, at the time, only a photo of Carney standing side-by-side with Maxwell and others was released by the mainstream media. Another newly discovered photo from the festival shows Carney laying on his hands and knees next to Maxwell, who is laying down on the grass with her back and arms on the ground in close proximity to Carney.

The photo appeared in a 2013 article about the festival, and was taken by photographer Chris Eades of the BPPA (The British Press Photographers' Association). That is awfully close contact for someone that is simply "bumped into" in public settings. Perhaps it reflects a greater familiarity with Ghislaine Maxwell than Mark Carney wishes to admit to.

Also of note is that Ghislaine Maxwell wore a tag that said "AAA Escort" at the festival, which according to a source familiar with such tags, allows anyone who wears one to walk anyone else into the backstage area and the green room. It's a VIP pass at the least, and at most, reflects that her role was to escort VIPs into backstage areas and anywhere else on the Festival grounds.

Several mainstream outlets, including The Daily Mail and The Standard, reported that Carney also stayed in the manor house that is located on the Wilderness Festival grounds, which is also where the owner of the festival (Lady Rotherwick) lives. Lady Rotherwick is also the sister of Mark Carney's wife.

An article about the festival mentions only one special guest in attendance, besides the musicians and other performers, and that was Mark Carney.

A few months prior to this in November 2012, Carney had been appointed the Governor of the Bank of England, a very prestigious and powerful job. Interestingly, Lady Rotherwick said in an interview regarding the festival that "I have got hundreds of people camping on my lawn and the house will be chock-a-block."

The British term "chock-a-block" is defined as "very full of people or things" according to the Cambridge Dictionary. Was Lady Rotherwick too busy to escort Carney to his room in her very full home?

Since Maxwell was wearing the VIP Escort badge, was she assigned by Lady Rotherwick to escort the VIP Mark Carney around the grounds, making sure he makes the appropriate stops, and bringing him to his bedroom in Lady Rotherwick's large house?

The Carney campaign has stated that Lady Rotherwick "went to the same high school" with Ghislaine Maxwell but "are not friends," while on the hand, the British celebrity gossip publication The Tatler claims that Maxwell and Rotherwick are in fact old friends, even considering the possibility that Maxwell went into hiding at Rotherwick's home at one point.

It would therefore only make sense that Lady Rotherwick would only trust a good friend to escort her VIP with full access to her entire grounds including her private home and to escort Mark Carney around the festival and to the house.

The Tatler also claims that Jeffrey Epstein himself attended the first Wilderness Festival with Ghislaine Maxwell a couple years prior in 2011 and paid the bills.

Did Maxwell have a room in the home as well in 2013, since the home was full of people, and did Epstein pay those bills again, and was Maxwell travelling with Carney and his wife, and did Epstein pay those bills as well?

It should be noted that Ghislaine Maxwell's modus operandi was to send underage girls to perform illicit acts for high-profile, powerful people.

The most famous of which was Prince Andrew, the second-eldest son of Queen Elizabeth II. Prince Andrew's underaged victim filed a lawsuit, which was settled in February 2022 with Prince Andrew paying an undisclosed amount to her.

According to the underaged victim, Maxwell simply told her to "do for (Prince Andrew) what you do for Epstein" and Jeffrey Epstein paid her $15,000 to do so. Epstein refused to answer questions over whether he attempted to blackmail Prince Andrew, according to court documents.

But Epstein was not present during the first time that Prince Andrew abused and exploited the underaged victim, according to the victim, and that abuse actually took place in England at Maxwell's home, where the infamous photo of the three was taken. That was Maxwell executing a plan from start to finish, with likely involvement from Epstein.

The pressing questions for Mark Carney therefore ought to be: 1) What did you talk about with Ghislaine Maxwell?

2) Did she escort you anywhere, and if so, did she escort you to your bedroom?

3) Did she try to compromise you in any way, shape or form, and was she successful?

But the Isle of Man does something more important: it allows oligarchs from around the world to pay taxes on their global income to the Isle of Man. So they can operate around the world, but choose to pay a fraction of their real tax obligation in the Isle of Man."

"Heartbreaking to know that so many folk are sleepwalking about Canada ending up under Communist rule. To date, not much about this in mainstream or social media, but then again, a majority of the Canadian media has been bought and paid for by outgoing PM Justin Trudeau.

The Christian Front - America's Answer to Communism

April 24, 2025

In the 1930's many Americans looked to Nazi Germany for inspiration in their opposition to the Communist Rothschild banking cartel.

Before Donald Trump, there was Father Charles Coughlin, who popularized fascism for Americans in the 1930s.

https://jacobin.com/2015/12/trump-coughlin-nazis-christian-front-kristallnacht-antisemitism-kasich-fascism/

When Fascism Was American
By Joe Allen
(excerpt by henrymakow.com)

In the United States, the public and the press were virtually unanimous in condemning Kristallnacht, with one poll reporting that nearly 94 percent of Americans disapproved of Germany's treatment of Jews.

Yet despite Nazism's unpopularity, one voice took to the airwaves to defend these actions -- Father Charles E. Coughlin, a Catholic priest based in Royal Oak, Michigan. Coughlin was a popular radio personality with an audience of millions, largely concentrated in the northeastern United States, and in New York City in particular.

In a highly anticipated broadcast that took place eleven days after Kristallnacht, Coughlin began by posing three questions: "Why is there persecution in Germany today?"; "How can we destroy it?"; and why is "Nazism so hostile to Jewry?"

Coughlin presented a simple answer: Nazism was a "defense mechanism against Communism," and that the "rising generation of Germans regard Communism as a product not of Russia, but of a group of Jews who dominated the destinies of Russia."

In

the broadcast Coughlin minimized the Nazi "fine" of $400 million on Germany's Jewish community with the claim that "between these same years not $400 million but $40 billion . . . of Christian property was appropriated by the Lenins and Trotskys . . . by the atheistic Jews and Gentiles" and accused the New York investment bank Kuhn Loeb & Company with helping to finance the Russian revolution and other Communist plots.

Coughlin's unapologetic Nazi propaganda inspired swift backlash. WMCA, the New York radio station that provided his largest audience, demanded to see his scripts in advance of any future broadcasts, and cancelled his program after he refused. Coughlin later admitted that he used "Nazi sources" in his broadcast.

Following the broadcast the New York Times' Berlin correspondent reported that Coughlin had become "the new hero of Nazi Germany." But Coughlin wasn't only a hero in Berlin; thousands of American supporters responded enthusiastically to his calls for militant action against "atheistic communism."

Coughlin began broadcasting from his Michigan church, "The Shrine of the Little Flower," in 1926, when radio represented a novel, thrilling experience for millions of people. With his rich baritone voice, and slight Irish brogue which he employed for great theatrical effect, Coughlin was made for the new medium.

The 1929 Wall Street crash and the ensuing depression impoverished large parts of Coughlin's working- and lower-middle-class audience. In the wake of the crisis his broadcasts changed from religious sermonizing to political commentary that began with violent attacks on communism. According to historian Alan Brinkley,

As Coughlin attacked the "banksters" he blamed for the Great Depression, his audience grew massive. By 1933, the network of radio stations that carried his broadcasts reached a potential listenership of forty million.

In November 1934, Coughlin announced that he would organize his followers into a new political organization, the National Union for Social Justice. He denied that it was a third party even though it bore the hallmarks of every traditional American political party, and was organized by congressional districts. Coughlin waited for the right issue to flex the muscles of his new formation and got it in January 1935 when Roosevelt proposed that the United States affiliate to the World Court.

No president since Woodrow Wilson -- for fear of provoking an isolationist backlash -- had proposed the US make itself accountable to an international institution. A largely symbolic act, it initially appeared that Roosevelt would win the Senate majority needed to ratify the treaty for affiliation.

Coughlin mobilized his forces along with other World Court opponents, including the mighty newspaper chain of arch-reactionary William Randolph Hearst. They overwhelmed Washington with hundreds of telegrams over one crucial weekend and defeated the treaty. A jubilant Coughlin declared that he intended to slay greater dragons. "Our next goal is to clean out the international bankers."

The phrase "international bankers" was a euphamism for Jews and was widely used in those years by numerous public figures including auto magnate (and fellow Michigander) Henry Ford, who bankrolled the distribution of antisemitic propaganda through his newspaper the Dearborn Independent.

Coughlin made the leap from antisemitism to open fascism after his political ambitions were crushed in the 1936 election. Coughlin had merged his National Union of Social Justice with the remnants of the late Huey Long's Share Our Wealth clubs, led by the antisemitic preacher Gerald L.K. Smith, and old-age pension activist Francis Townsend, in order to mount a third-party challenge to Roosevelt.

The Union Party nominated North Dakota congressman William Lemke for president. Roosevelt, however, had shifted dramatically to the left during the course of 1935. In the face of failing New Deal policies and a huge upsurge in labor struggle, the president signed into law historic legislation including the Social Security Act and the National Labor Relations Act, the popularity of which undercut any electoral challenge.

As Lemke's campaign faltered, Coughlin grew increasingly agitated and vitriolic. "When an upstart dictator in the United States succeeds in making this a one-party form of government, then the ballot is useless," he asserted to an audience of twenty-five thousand supporters in Providence, Rhode Island. Coughlin declared: "I shall have the courage to stand up and advocate the use of bullets" and promised "more bullet holes in the White House than you could count with an adding machine."

Winning less than nine hundred thousand votes across the country,

Lemke went down in crushing defeat while Roosevelt secured one of the biggest presidential landslides in US history. With the election over, Coughlin announced that he would retire from the airwaves. Despondent, he confided to a reporter, "Democracy is doomed. This is our last election . . . It is fascism or communism. We are at a crossroads."

"What road do you take, Father Coughlin?" the reporter asked.

"I take the road of fascism," the priest replied.

"There's also the matter of public fatigue. Americans are tired of being lectured. Box office returns, streaming numbers, and network ratings all tell the same story. Once-dominant liberal cable channels are in freefall. As of December 2024, CNN and MSNBC had lost half their prime-time audiences, plunging to 30-year lows. Fox News, meanwhile, is thriving. So are conservative-leaning podcasters like Tucker Carlson and Joe Rogan, now the dominant voices in America's 'new media' landscape."

"But if this non-pope and anti-pope can no longer harm the Mystical Body, his heirs still remain, the subversives whom he has invalidly created "cardinals" and who have long been organizing themselves to ensure a continuator of the synodal revolution and the destructuring of the Papacy. In support of them are also the conservative Cardinals and Bishops who have been careful not to question the legitimacy of Jorge Bergoglio. It is on these people that the greatest responsibility for the outcome of the next "conclave" falls."

VATICAN CITY, July 5 (Reuters) - Italian Archbishop Carlo Maria Vigano, a fierce ultra-conservative critic of Pope Francis, has been found guilty of schism and excommunicated, the Vatican's doctrinal office said on Friday.
Vigano, the papal envoy in Washington from 2011-2016, went into hiding in 2018 after alleging that the pope knew for years about sexual misconduct by U.S. Cardinal Theodore McCarrick and did nothing about it.

I've been carrying this weight for a while, and I just need to let it out somewhere people might understand.

If even 10% of what we've learned about the harmful effects of the "vaccines" is true... then this wasn't just a mishandled crisis. It was something else. Something planned. A kind of soft genocide, quietly carried out while people clapped and shamed each other into compliance. And the worst part? So many leaders, across so many nations, were at least somewhat in on it -- whether actively or by turning a blind eye.

That realization has broken something in me. It's not just anger or betrayal. It's a deep sadness -- for the people who were hurt, for those who still don't see it, and for the world I thought I lived in. I feel like I'm grieving something invisible. My sense of reality. My trust. My sense of safety.

I don't know how to move on from this. I don't know how to pretend things are fine when they're not. I try to live a normal life, but there's always this weight in the back of my mind -- a sense that nothing is what it seems anymore.

If anyone else is going through this, how do you cope? How do you rebuild yourself after something like this? I don't want to argue or convince anyone. I just want to feel less alone."

Chabad Defector- Jewish Racism Behind White Genocide & WW3

Jewish racism is a belief that Jews have a higher soul than non-Jews, and that non-Jews have satanic souls. This means that all religious Jews regardless of their color and country of origin look at non-Jews as "inferior" simply because they have satanic souls.

In this article, I want to tell you about my experience and my understanding of the Jewish religion in general and a racist cult "Chabad" in particular.

HOW I BECAME PART OF CHABAD

It all began at the age of 20. At the time I was a religious Jew but I wasn't quite part of Chabad. Then in 2005, while visiting NYC, I met a Chabad emissary who had introduced me to the movement. He asked me if I could visit "770" in Brooklyn NY. I did. I took part in their rituals and meetings and over the next four years I became a fanatic follower of Chabad.

We used to have meetings in which we had discussed the coming of the Jewish Messiah and the future world as envisioned by Chabad and the Jewish religion - a world where the Jews are the supreme masters of the Earth where every individual Jew has as many as 2,800 gentile slaves, a world, where the only purpose of non-Jews is to SERVE Jews. On the other hand, the Jews are considered as the "Seat Of God".

WHAT AND WHO IS CHABAD?

Chabad is a racist organization - a Jewish supremacist missionary cult whose main goal is Jewish total superiority over the "Goyim" and their enslavement.

Its central commandment is fulfilling the commandment "Breaking Through"i.e. making the world safe for Zionist world domination.

(Trump & Nazis & Chabad above -same crossed hands)

Chabad train their young to be emissaries when they grow up. Being "emissary" in Chabad terms means spreading their racist ideology to Jews all over the world - especially those who are not practicing Judaism. They give ideological and moral support for the Zionist Globalist Agenda.

They see the enslavement of the "Goyim" through the international Jewish banks and the international politics as serving their Messianic prophecies - a future world where the Jewish NWO controls all the nations of the world.

Under their leader Rabbi Menachem Mendel Schneerson, (1902-1994) left, the movement established a network of nearly 4,000 institutions that provide religious, social and ideological support to Jews in over 1,000 cities, spanning 100 countries including all US states.

JEWS ARE GOD. GENTILES ARE INSECTS WHOSE ONLY PURPOSE IS TO SERVE JEWS OR DIE:

According to Chabad, Jews themselves are "God". Usury is permitted and encouraged against non-Jews (This is the motive of the NWO bankers). Chabad's movement book "The Tania" is all about the Jews being God on Earth and non-Jews as being no more than animals - inferior without souls. If they do have souls their souls are demonic and satanic and originate in the "Klipot A'thmeot" i.e. the unholy spheres or the "Sitrha Achra".

(Chabad members, Kushners have Trump's ear.)

Gentiles are animals without souls in their eyes. The "Jewish Soul" is God incarnate. Every Jew is a "God" in flesh. The entire universe including the trillions of galaxies, stars, and planets were created solely for the Jews and by the Jewish God YHVH who is actually a manifestation of the Jewish people itself. One fingernail of a Jew is worth more than the entire non-Jewish world populations (That includes Europeans, Muslims, Asians, and Africans) according to Chabad...

THE NWO AGENDA

Chabad is nothing more than a manifestation of the Jewish racism that fuels the NWO agenda. Israel's founder and former prime minister David Ben Gurion's envisioned the Jews as being at the center of the One World Government (Illuminati Satanic NWO) dream. This will be the fulfillment of the promises of the Bible where the Jews will be the controllers and rulers of all the nations of the world in the time to come.

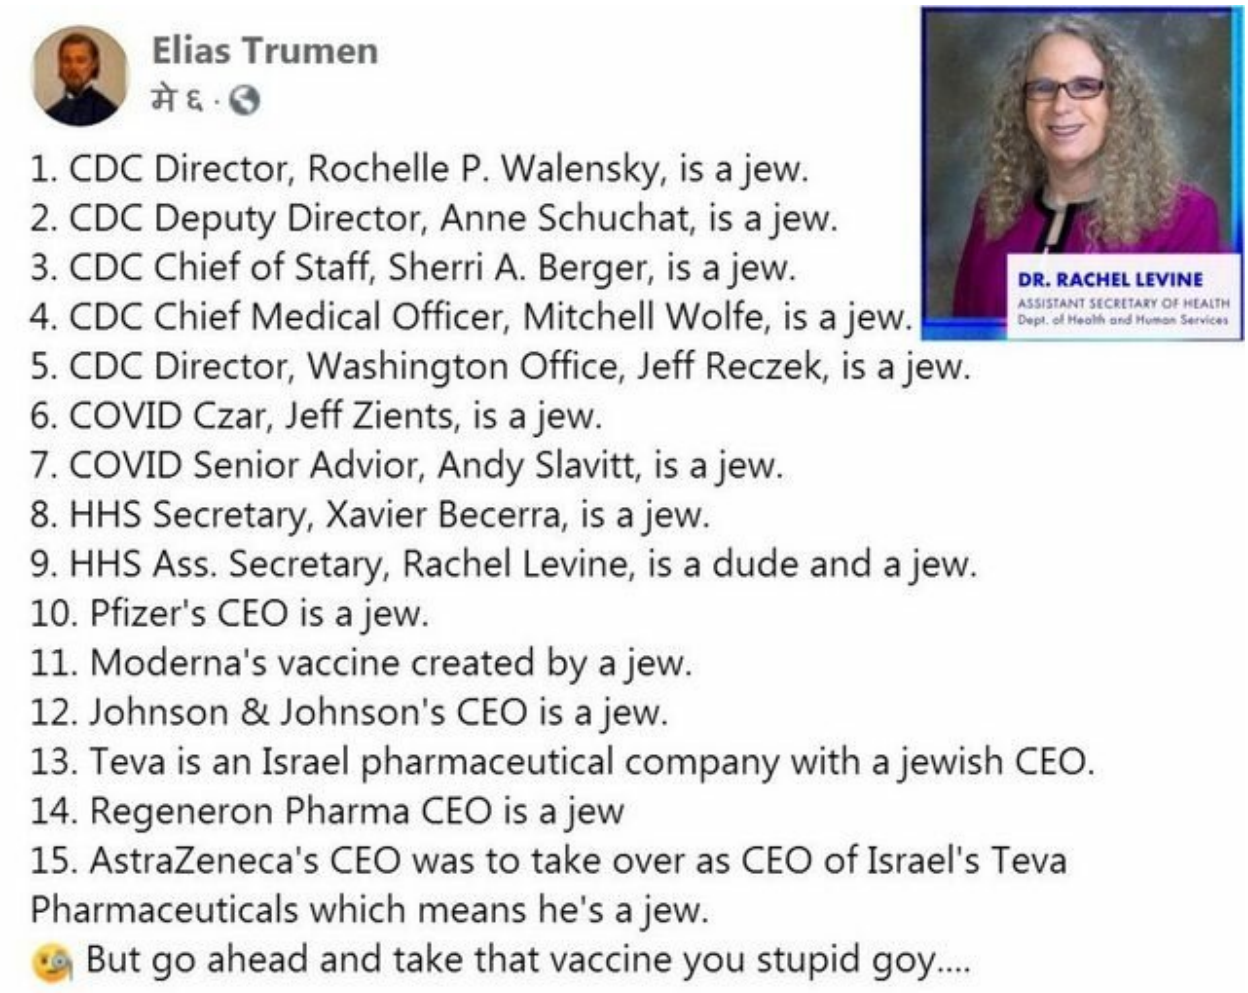

The Jerusalem Supreme Court with the Illuminati pyramid and the mark of "All-Seeing-Eye" was built to support this agenda as envisioned by Ben Gurion :

"In Jerusalem, the United Nations (a truly United Nations) will build a shrine of the prophets to serve the federated union of all continents; this will be the seat of the Supreme Court of Mankind, to settle all controversies among the federated continents, as prophesied by Isaiah..."

Guess who funded and built the Israeli "Supreme Court"? The controllers of the world banks i.e. the Rothschilds of course! The Jewish racist and supremacist agenda is blatantly in your face... It is simply a matter of 2+2=4.

Cabala and Satanism are a means to weaken their host nations so they can more easily control these nations by degrading them. This is how they maintain their money monopoly - by breaking down race, nation, family (heterosexuality) and belief in a higher spiritual purpose to life (i.e. God - Not religion!). Hence we become more materialistic and less spiritual (look at modern "art" for example) and are then more easily controlled and enslaved by them as people with no meaning in life don't fight back. This is the Eye Of Sauron. The All-Seeing-Eye. "One Ring To Rule Them All"...

WHY I LEFT CHABAD AND JUDAISM BEHIND ME

I left Chabad since I had an experience which made me feel that this hatred is not coming from God but from man's ego and fears.

I hope that White Europeans and those who are against White genocide understand that the reason why the White race is being attacked today is that of the one ultimate racist ideology on the planet: Judaism.

"I'm writing this in the conspiracy board because these accusations are not substantiated. But I just need to ask, has anyone ever just sat down and connected the dots on what exactly is up with this dude? And look, I am honestly so tired of people jump to his defense and saying things like "oh well, he had a huge substance abuse problem when he was writing a lot of his books, that's why the subject matter is so crazy!"

In my opinion, it's no excuse for how often he depicts literal children in sexual situations so often, and so frequently, and so explicitly! Not to mention all of the water works and scat situations as well for adults. How is this normal or acceptable? Again, I understand to a degree of course it's art and it's all fictional, but I truly have to wonder why he entertained these themes so consistently.

I started down this rabbit hole with him when I started examining a lot of Stanley Kubrick films actually, I developed a separate theory on Kubrick, where I suspect his movies are actually huge call outs against all of the actors, producers and writers in Hollywood at the time, calling them out as being "pdfiles." There wasn't a lot that convinced me that Stephan could have been part of the call out other than Kubrick took his story from the Shining and clearly intentionally pissed him off through that adaptation.

Not until I watched a yt video by the channel called "Deep Dive." They did a very long documentary on Drew Barrymore and during the first installment of it, they bring up a very little known fact that Stephen King, was essentially obsessed with her when she was from like ages 10-11 when she was in the Stephen Spielberg movie "Fire Starter" based on the book by Stephan King. There's this insanely creepy recording of him and Drew having what I suppose was a very early technology provided video call. The way he talks to her, and just the way they both interact with each other in general, it is so beyond creepy. It's also so clear that he never thought that other people would see this interaction. They exchange "I love yous" he fawns over a drawing she made for him that he has hung up on his wall right behind him. I know it sounds innocent, but you just have to see it for yourself.

It's also been noted that Stephan has stated that he viewed Drew at the time as his own child, and loved her like she was his daughter. I'm just saying, I find this so bizarre, how close exactly can you get as a young child star when you star in a movie based on a book and the author of that book becomes obsessed with you. Don't get me started on Drew and Stephen Spielberg's relationship, that is a whole other post.

I'm just saying, people defend this guy to no end but they really shouldn't. Just look more into him and don't give him excuses for his extremely strange subject matter in his books. He really has pulled a work on so many people, because he is a good writer, and so many people like his books. My prediction, he's going to be outed soon and it will be a Neil Gaimon situation.

Reader Review- Snow White Takes Heat for Protesting Gaza Genocide

April 1, 2025

G--"We just had to go, not just to indulge our inner child, but also to support that young actress (Rachel Zegler) who was so up-front about the plight of the

and who took so much heat for her stance."

Makow- Seems the Ziomedia condemned this movie because of Rachel Ziegler's stand on Gaza, and we may have been influenced unwittingly.
This is how we are mind-controlled.

by G
(henrymakow.com)

Hi Henry, my husband and I went to see the film Snow White. We went to kindle some of the nostalgia of our youth, but also to see the project that resulted in so much controversy.

Little people upset for not being hired, or for being poorly portrayed; main stars in very public conflict regarding the Gaza genocide.

We just had to go, not just to indulge our inner child, but also to support that young actress (Rachel Zegler) who was so up-front about the plight of the Palestinians, and who took so much heat for her stance. We went hoping the artistry would transcend the controversies, and of course we know it's impossible to make EVERYONE happy. Anyhow here are my observations:

The film was basically NOT THAT GOOD. I fully believe Gal Gadot who played the iconic evil queen ruined it. Her acting was terrible and she in no way represented the dark and cunning wickedness of the original bad queen. And worse, (this was a musical) she can't sing. Many flat notes; I can't understand how the director and/or sound technicians could let her get away with that.

Over all I guess I'd give it a C+. There were a few magical/touching moments, both in sentiment and cinematography, but not enough to feed the nostalgia we all were looking for. Some mainstream media outlets are pinning the low box-office on young Rachael Zegler who played Snow White. I fully disagree; she was good in the movie and my personal opinion is that she's only taking heat because she bravely spoke out about the genocide in Gaza and the plight of the Palestinian people. They did allow her love interest to save her life; rare in today's movies, but the point was made that she did need him and came to love him.

Well, we know the news lies, but our eyes and ears don't. My husband liked the film a bit more than I. He pointed out the parallels to today's world concerning all the demise and so much corrupt leadership. There was a scene at the end where all those who were fighting on the side of good were reflecting on what life was like before the evil queen took power, and one-by-one they looked into the camera and said, "I remember." "I remember." "I remember."

It was very stirring, and it got us to reflect on life as it was a few decades ago, life as it should be, could be: loving, helpful, compassionate, and FREE. I mean, who needs an evil queen, or a dictator king? Real leaders work with the people and know we are all kings and queens in our own right, fully capable of cooperating and moving life forward.

Anyhow, what thinking mind doesn't crave a good film? So now, after decades of so much Hollywood garbage we are expecting better from today's offerings, not just in film but also in theater, and all other art forms.

There was a time when artists pointed the way, helped move evolution along, and made life beautiful, productive, adventurous, fun, curious, questioning, experimental, and HOPEFUL!! I hope we see a return to more of that. Wishful thinking, but it would be wonderful if the artists themselves would only sign on to quality projects, heart-warming, thought-provoking, and pro-humanity; it would be a gift to humanity.

First Comment from Mike Stone

I enjoyed today's post by G, and I agree with a lot that she said. On the one hand, it's good that the movie is bombing, because Disney is the epitome of evil. On the other hand, I admire Rachel Zegler, the lead actress, for speaking publicly and honestly on a subject that most people have been cowed into silence over.

Zegler is now being blamed for the film's poor performance at the box office. Of course, the media is trumpeting that story and braindead Americans are buying it, but the reality is she has nothing to do with the film's poor box office performance.

She didn't write the script. She didn't direct the movie. She had no say in any of the creative decisions behind the film. And she didn't green-light the film's excessive and wasteful budget. All she did was memorize the lines that somebody else wrote, and then give the director the performance that he and the film's producers wanted her to give. By all accounts, she did an admirable job. No one has criticized her performance.
